Purpose and Eligibility for 2017-2018 IUPUI Graduate Diversity Fellowship for Purdue Programs

Greater innovation, collaboration, and success is associated with increased team diversity among STEM workers and educators. To help meet this national need and better prepare future STEM educators, the Indiana University-Purdue University (IUPUI) Graduate Fellowship Committee has endorsed a new pilot program to provide funds for recruiting talented and diverse students to Purdue graduate programs within our Schools of Science and Engineering and Technology. The IUPUI Graduate Diversity Fellowship program has the goal of attracting outstanding underrepresented students to pursue a Purdue PhD degree at IUPUI. This pilot program has been tailored similarly to the diversity recruitment fellowships offered to applicants to IU Ph.D. programs on the IUPUI campus. This pilot IUPUI Diversity Fellowship is a one-year award administered by the IUPUI Graduate Office which includes the following:

- Financial support from the IUPUI Graduate Office:
  - A first year fellowship stipend distributed directly to the incoming student, as part of a recruiting package consistent with the applicant’s terms of appointment:
    - 10-month option
      - $19,000 - paid two times each year - $9,500 in the Fall, $9,500 in the Spring
    - 12-month option
      - $22,500 - paid three times each year - $9,000 in the Fall, $9,000 in the Spring and $4,500 in the Summer
  - Student health insurance with dental coverage in the first year

As indicated below, programs may supplement student stipends to ensure parity with currently enrolled students in each degree program.

Schools/departments are responsible for:
- Tuition/fee remission, as defined in the SAA Handbook, in the first year and in subsequent years
  - Factoring in MSEP discount if MSEP eligible
- Supporting the University Fellow for subsequent years of the program at a similar level of stipend support
